

I have been listening to XM radio since last fall and very much enjoy the material presented. I pay a fee to listen to XM and therefore feel that the National Association of Broadcasters have no business trying to tell XM what can be broadcast. If I wanted the lousy quality and advertising that is on the broadcast stations I would listen to them instead of paying for the high quality that XM provides. I respectfully urge the Fcc to reject the petition of NAB to limit what XM can present.
